Accountability Value

Our current value is "Accountability." With this value, we want to emphasize the accountability of our bodies and being good students. When we talk about our bodies we want all students to feel safe in their learning environments. At school, we talk about safe hands and not resolving conflict with our hands. If we are accountable with our bodies everyone will feel safe at school. As students, we are accountable for our work, paying attention and doing our best. This means being attentive and respectful when in class. It means being responsible for materials and doing our best work. When we are accountable in class we grow as students. We have a lot of fun community meetings around accountability this month, so stay tuned.

What is SAC?

School Accountability is a place where, you as a parent, can get information about what's going on in the school. In this meeting, I present information about the budget, testing, scores, curriculum and district initiatives. It is a great place to ask questions and get to know where the school is headed. SAC is at 5:00-6:00 before the PTCO on Tuesday evenings. The next SAC is November 13th!

CHOIR

Every year in January kids from all over the state of Colorado come together for the Colorado Elementary All-State Children's Choir. After a full day of rehearsal together, the kids perform a concert at the Broadmoor Hotel Event Center in Colorado Springs. This year Coyote Hills has 8 students representing our school. A judge from another school came in and auditioned all 33 interested students. The following students were chosen for their excellent auditions and top scores. Congratulations!

If you'd like your military family members to be included in the slideshow, please email your picture to Mr. Cuoco at:
